DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. If applicant desires priority under 35 U.S.C. 120 based upon a previously filed copending application, specific reference to the earlier filed application must be made in the instant application. This should appear as the first sentence of the specification following the title, preferably as a separate paragraph. The status of nonprovisional parent application(s) (whether patented or abandoned) should also be included. If a parent application has become a patent, the expression "now Patent No. _____" should follow the filing date of the parent application. If a parent application has become abandoned, the expression "now abandoned" should follow the filing date of the parent application.

If the application is a utility or plant application filed on or after November 29, 2000, any claim for priority must be made during the pendency of the application and within the later of four months from the actual filing date of the application or sixteen months from the filing date of the prior application. See 37 CFR 1.78(a)(2) and (a)(5). This time period is not extendable and a failure to submit the reference required by 35 U.S.C. 119(e) and/or 120, where applicable, within this time period is considered a waiver of any benefit of such prior application(s) under 35 U.S.C. 119(e), 120, 121 and 365(c). A priority claim filed after the required time period may be accepted if it is accompanied by a grantable petition to accept an unintentionally delayed claim for priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(e), 120, 121 and 365(c). The petition must be accompanied by (1) a surcharge under 37 CFR 1.17(t), and (2) a statement that the entire delay between the date the claim was due under 37 CFR 1.78(a)(2) or (a)(5) and the date the claim was filed was unintentional. The Commissioner may require additional information where there is a question whether the delay was unintentional. The petition should be directed to the Office of Petitions, Box DAC, Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Washington, DC 20231.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cavazza (U.S. Pat. No. 4,602,039) in view of Cavazza (U.S. Pat. No. 6,063,820).

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

The '039 patent teaches pharmaceutical compositions comprising salts of L-carnitine and salts of alkanoyl L-carnitine (See Abstract and Claims 1 and 2). Methods of preparing non-hygroscopic salts of L-carnitine and alkanoyl L-carnitine are disclosed (See Examples 1-10). The patent also teaches compositions of non-hygroscopic salts of L-carnitine as the active ingredient, which further comprise pharmaceutically acceptable excipients (See Column 7, Lines 29-55). Such compositions can be embodied in the form of capsules or tablets.

It is the position of the examiner that the teachings of the '039 patent suggest the limitations of the applicant's claims, because they teach the crystallization of L-carnitine salts, and the manufacture of solid dosage forms using the crystallized product. The examiner shifts the burden to the applicant to show criticality in the specific particle size claimed. It is the position of the examiner that particle reduction processes are well known in the pharmaceutical art, and one would be motivated to use these processes to create particles with the desired size.

The '039 patent does not teach the an L-carnitine composition further comprising hydroxycitric acid, co-enzyme Q10, chromium picolinate, gamma linolenic acid, resveratrol, omega-3 acids, an antioxidant, or a vitamin.

The '820 patent teaches a pharmaceutical composition which comprises an alkanoyl L-carnitine or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt thereof, and gamma linolenic acid or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt thereof (See Column 2, Lines 27-49). The composition may further comprise vitamins, co-enzymes, and antioxidants (See Column 2, Lines 53-56). Examples of suitable antioxidants include resveratrol and selenium (See Column 2, Lines 57-61). Suitable vitamins include Vitamins A, E, B₁, B₆, and B₁₂ (See Column 2, Line 62 to Column 3, Line 14). Co-enzyme Q10 may also be included in the composition (See Column 3, Lines 15-16).

It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teachings of the '039 Cavazza patent and the '820 Cavazza patent by including additional ingredients such as gamma linolenic acid, vitamins, co-enzymes, and/or antioxidants into a pharmaceutical composition comprising hygroscopic salts of L-carnitine and alkanoyl L-carnitines. Thus, the claimed invention as a whole is prima facie obvious.
